

VICTORY COST THE BRITISH DEARLY.

Gen. Methuen's Casualties at Modder River Run Into the Hundreds, and of these Seventy-three Men Were Killed—Reinforcements Are Arriving Rapidly and the Stream Will Soon Be Bridged.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, Dec. 2.—As surmised, the British dead and wounded at the hard fought battle of Modder river number hundreds. The War Department today gave out the information that the total number of casualties was 433 and the number of killed was 73. The revised list of Modder river casualties, non-commissioned officers and men, is divided as follows: Ninth Lancers, 1 wounded; engineers, 2 wounded; artillery, 3 killed, 25 wounded; Second Coldstreams, 3 killed, 25 wounded; Third Grenadiers, 3 killed, 25 wounded; 4 missing; Scots Guards, 10 killed, 37 wounded; 1 missing; Northumberland Fusiliers, 11 killed, 31 wounded; First Northamptonshire, 3 killed, 14 wounded; Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, 15 killed, 55 wounded, 2 missing; First Coldstreams, 20 wounded; South African Reserve, 1 wounded; medical corps, 1 wounded. REINFORCEMENTS. From General Forester-Walker's dispatch it is proved that all reports of General Methuen's advance after the battle of Modder river were premature, though with the railroad working he should not be long in constructing a temporary bridge. His enforced delay doubtless will be of considerable service in giving his hard pushed column needed reinforcements, and he must be sorely in need after three such fights, placing him at a disadvantage of a thousand men over the less than seven thousand.

DREAD PLAGUE INVADES JAPAN.

The Ministry Likely to Go to Pieces Shortly.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. YOKOHAMA, Nov. 16 (via San Francisco, Dec. 2).—The bubonic plague has made its entry into Japan, five undoubted cases having been reported at Kobe, three already proving fatal. The pest is traced to cotton imported from China, the original buyer, the carrier and the purchaser of the stuff being the three victims. Much dismay prevails in the infected city, and the most drastic measures are being taken by the authorities. A hundred houses are isolated and a corps of the most eminent physicians in the empire has been dispatched to the scene with full powers. A striking illustration of the sensitiveness of the Japanese mind to the Russian encroachments in Korea is to be found in the fact that although it was perfectly well known that the autumn manoeuvres of the army were to be held this week, yet the embarkation of troops upon two transports here last Monday gave rise to the wildest rumors that they were en route for Korea, and in the popular imagination the impending war had already begun. The future Empress of Japan has been chosen, and her engagement to the Crown Prince announced. She will have a dowry of a million and a quarter of yen from her own house, the Emperor's, the latter contributing the larger portion of the sum. It may be significant that by this marriage the Crown Prince will be related to the highest Buddhist priest in the empire. In view of the strong Buddhist movement to secure state recognition, this fact is commented upon of great interest. Predictions are freely made that the coming session of parliament will result in a break-up of the present Ministry. The liberal party, through alliance with which the Cabinet has been enabled to carry out its measures, is in a state of chaos. Two of its leaders have resigned, while others have been making insistent demands for spoils in the shape of ministerial appointments in return for party service. The civil service question is line of communication has relieved much anxiety here, where it was fully expected the Boers would attempt to attack the vulnerable points of the line of communication. The latest news from Natal indicates that the bulk of the British relief force has arrived at Pieter, though there is considerable controversy as to the exact number of men. The Boers' advance movements have not been chronicled recently. MAY SURPRISE JOUBERT. It is surmised in some quarters that he may reappear in a totally unexpected quarter, on the flank or rear of General Joubert's force, which is supposed to be at Groblersburg's Kloof, north of the Peka river. General Joubert's advance guard was in touch with the Boers as long ago as Tuesday last, developments should not be long delayed. Joubert's reported force, November 25th, accompanied by four guns, went in pursuit of a body of Boers returning to their lair. They followed them for a while, and a half mile of Colenso, when the Boers replied to the British shells with long range guns. There were no casualties. Colenso bridge, it is added, was afterwards blown up. Another detachment of 3,000 British troops sailed for South Africa today. Owing to the phenomenal sale of newspapers consequent on the war, a paper famine is threatened. It is reported that the American supplies have failed temporarily.

GEN. METHUEN'S ARMY STILL AT MODDER RIVER.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, Dec. 2.—The War Office has this being brought to the front as prominently as it is in the United States. The government has decided to build two new cruisers in its own dockyards, one at Kure and the other at Yokohama. It realizes the fact that this cannot be done any more than twenty different ships would entail in foreign yards, but for the encouragement of domestic industry the work must be done here. The tone of the Japanese press on the war in the Transvaal is decidedly pro-British. WHEELER WRITES OF THE REBELS. The Anti-Imperialists Keep Insurrection Alive. Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—General Joe Wheeler, in a personal letter received here, dated at Angeles, Luzon, says: "The insurrection in this island, and very few of them would submit to Aguinaldo's rule. Aguinaldo and his generals would like to govern, because it would give them great power, and many of his soldiers like war because of the first time in their lives they have authority to carry a gun. They live by taking what they want from the people. Many of them are robbers who rob defenseless people of their money and sometimes murder them. If we should withdraw there would be warfare and anarchy in the islands and the world-to-do would get some strong government to come and take control. Aguinaldo publishes a paper which is filled with expressions from people of the United States who are called anti-imperialists, and I think, were it not for these expressions, the insurrection would be closed. RUSSIAN SAILORS COMING. SOUTHAMPTON, Dec. 2.—The American ship steamer St. Louis, which sailed for New York today had among her passengers thirty Russian sailors and two Russian officers. The Russian sailors on board the St. Louis are probably part of a detachment sent by the Russian government to take charge of one of the Russian cruisers built in the United States.

"General French has made a reconnaissance from Naauwpoort to Joubert's. The troops returned today. "General Methuen's fresh wound is slight. He is recovering at Worcester. For the reconstruction of the bridge. Am reinforcing him with Highlanders and a cavalry corps. Horse artillery, the Canadian regiment, Australian contingents and three battalions infantry moved up to Modder and Belmont sites." DEATH OF GEN. JOUBERT AGAIN REPORTED. Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, Dec. 2.—According to a dispatch from Cape Town, General Joubert was killed November 18th, but General Buller's dispatch of November 28th showed that General Joubert was in communication with General Buller, or somebody impersonating him, about November 18th. DRUCE CASE DISMISSED. Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, Dec. 2.—The appeal of Mrs. Annie Maria Druce, who claims to be a daughter-in-law of the Duke of Devonshire, against the decision pronouncing the operation of the Druce will at the Highgate cemetery unless the owner of the grave consents to have the coffin opened, has been dismissed, no case appearing in support of this claimant.

CHECKS ROLLING IN AT THE EBELL.

The Oakland Transit Company Makes a Handsome Offer to the Ladies.

Some large checks are liable to come into the hands of the Ebells ladies' fund at any moment, which will materially alter the total. Meanwhile they express undiminished satisfaction and gratefulness at the rate at which the popular subscriptions are rolling in. General Manager W. P. Kelly of the Oakland Transit Company today followed up his very handsome personal contribution and general note of yesterday to the Carnegie Free Public Library fund, with a modest offering of fifteen per cent of the gross receipts of his company's surface lines for any day next week which the society may choose, recommending Saturday being usually the day of the largest receipts. His letter is as follows: "Oakland, Cal., Dec. 2, 1899. "Mrs. R. P. Johnson, President Ebells Society, Oakland, Cal.: Dear Madam—As but little time remains in which to secure the necessary funds for the purchase of a library site, the Oakland Transit Company offers as a contribution to the fund (15) fifteen per cent of the gross receipts of any day next week which your society may select. Unless you prefer some other day we would suggest December 2nd, as our receipts are usually larger on Saturday. If weather conditions are favorable, and your friends and neighbors are requested to patronize the cars that day, we hope to give you a substantial contribution. We shall request that on the day selected all our employees and all others having free transportation pay their fare. "The end is now in sight and we know you are working for the earliest realization of your hopes, we remain, very truly, "THE OAKLAND TRANSIT CO., "W. P. KELLY, General Manager." A movement has been started today for the securing of a fund from contributions of the Ebells' members to the library site fund in the name of the Ebells Society. Many of the members of the society have already made individual contributions, but such are the spirit and purpose of this fund of Oakland's citizens that a considerable amount is likely to be derived from this source. The movement is in the charge of Mrs. Alfred H. Babcock and Mrs. William H. Friend. The contribution of $25, credited in THE TRIBUNE yesterday to Dr. Susan J. Fenlon, was turned in by her but came from Mrs. F. Fenlon, the civil and hydraulic engineer. It was accompanied by this letter: "Oakland, Nov. 29, 1899. "Dr. Susan J. Fenlon—Dear Madam: Wishing the ladies of the Ebells Society success in their noble work, I have purchased of the lot selected by them for a public library building, enclosed find my check for $25, the payable to you for that purpose. Very sincerely yours, "W. F. BABCOCK." From Almon Lodge No. 20, Sons of St. George, with very kind messages, there came a check of $10. Any contributions thus far published this morning are to have been made in season as convenient at the Ebells headquarters for the preparation of the final list, which will be published by the end of the month. A sum of twenty thousand dollars is raised. The following letter was received: "Mrs. D. C. Portland—Dear Madam: I am requested to inform you that Oakland Lodge No. 108 K. of P., being fully alive to the benefits it accrues to the

LIEUT. MUNROE'S CAPTURE OF CLASSIC BLUFF, BAYONBONG.

Capture of Bayonbong the Best Joke of the War. Fifty Americans Take Eight Hundred Rebels.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. MANILA, Dec. 2.—6 p. m.—The capture of Bayonbong, a strategic point of the Fourth Cavalry of the Philippine General Canon with 800 men and officers with rifles, several American and seventy Spanish prisoners. Bayonbong, a strategic point of Nueva Vizcaya, was a successful bluff. Lieutenant Munroe tapped the rebel wire, telegraphed to General Canon and demanded his surrender. After negotiations Canon consented to capitulate to a superior force. Munroe telegraphed that he would enter the town with a small guard and receive the garrison's surrender. He captured the whole place, and secured and secured their arms, the rebels supposing Munroe had an army behind him.

CADETS MEET ON FOOTBALL FIELD.

Exciting Game in Which West Point Downs the Lads From Annapolis.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—One of the most notable football games ever played on the city took place on Franklin field this afternoon, the contestants being eleven representing West Point Military and Annapolis Naval academies. It was the first time that eleven representing the two branches of the military arm of the Government have met since 1893, when, by mutual agreement of the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, the annual contests were stopped because the interest in them had grown so intense that they interfered with the progress of the cadets in both academies. Among those present were Secretary of War Root, Secretary of the Navy Long, Assistant Secretary of War McKeown, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen, and a long list of officers, active and retired, of the army and navy. AN INVITATION GAME. Admittance was by invitation, no fee being charged. More than 22,000 invitations were issued to the two academies each sending out 5,000 and the University of Pennsylvania the remaining 12,000 or more. The demand for tickets was unusually brisk, and as high as $15 was offered for a single invitation. Both teams arrived yesterday afternoon, and were quartered in hotels as the guests of the University of Pennsylvania. The West Point players remained in charge of Colonel A. W. McKeown, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and the Annapolis players were under the guidance of Lieutenant Commander Hugo Osterhaus, United States Navy. The entire corps of West Point cadets, 300 strong, in uniforms, arrived here this morning by special train, and was escorted to Houston Hall on the University campus, where luncheon was served, followed by the reception by the University of Pennsylvania authorities. The naval cadets, also numbering 300, arrived shortly after the West Pointers, and were also entertained at Houston Hall. Rain fell all night, but the morning broke clear and cold, producing ideal football weather, although the field was a little soft. The officials for today's game were: Referee, R. D. Wrenn. Umpire, Edgar Wright. Timekeeper, Bert Walters, all Harvard graduates. THE LINE-UP. The following is the line-up: West Point. Positions. Annapolis. Smith (capt.) left end. Long (capt.) right end. MAYOR WANTS MORE MONEY.

Says the City Must Not Have a Deficit Year.

Tonight retrenchment in the expenses of the conduct of the Street Department will begin and the last of the year included in the report of the Board of Public Works will be left off the force. The men who will remain on the streets are the sweepers, three street cleaners, three horse and cart drivers, one crossing sweeper and the engineer and driver of the street cars. The cost of the material employed in the carrying out of public works and improvements. In case of emergency, for the purpose of rapidity of action, the Superintendent of Streets will be at liberty to employ four men at the rate of $100 per month.

On the 1st of next month, however, as six months more of this fiscal year remain, there will be another retrenchment of the force of the city. The Mayor says that he is in a position to carry out the retrenchment for the rest of the year.

Points on State and Federal Politics

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—The batteries of those who have been talking extra session for the past five months have been effectively silenced for the time being, for although no official declaration has been made upon the subject, a thorough understanding has been established as to what the program is to be. As repeatedly set forth in this correspondence of late, everything hinges upon the action of the Senate in the case, for if the Pennsylvania is seated, Governor Gage will at once appoint Col. Burns as the representative of California, whereas, on the other hand, if Quay is defeated an extra session will be convened here and the Republican legislature will be called upon to raise to the spirit of the occasion and select a member of the party to fill the vacancy now existing.

That the Legislature would respond to such an appeal is beyond doubt, for the members are all now of a mind as to the necessity of the hour, and will call for a caucus without question to result in a full attendance of the Republic. With that much accomplished it is a sure thing that the Legislature will be at an end, for sooner than sacrifice the Senate to the Democrats the Republican members of the Legislature would almost go to the extent of shutting down the Legislature.

Let it, therefore, be set down as a sure thing that either by the appointment of Col. Burns or by an extra session, the Republican United States Senator will go to Washington this winter in Quay's place, for with two paths out of the difficulty one of them is a sure thing that the Legislature will not make any mistake in electing a Democrat to fill the vacancy.

The outlook, however, is somewhat different to what they would have us believe. It is a probability, amounting almost to a certainty, that the Legislature will go Republican at the National election next year, and it would be a very remarkable exception to the rule if, with the main result that way, the Legislature should swing in another direction.

Then again, although it is true that a study light would swing among the Republicans themselves as to who their candidate should be, this fact must not be overlooked that the Democrats would not object to the selection of Quay, for they are as divided on the subject of their choice for Senator as the other side.

DEMOCRATIC HOPES.
Mayor Phelan naturally figures as the prime possibility in view of the prestige he has got out of his last and greatest local victory, but this is not the whole story by any means. Congressman DeVries has a choice endorsement of war-paint he stands ready to don as soon as there is anything to fight for; Governor Gage would jump up in the back ground a formidable and dangerous candidate. Gage, however, is not known how to go about it, while Senator Theobald is also on the scene.

The only man who would have a chance to win is the Democratic Senator, Mr. W. H. White, who is out of the running altogether, for although his condition is not such as to prevent him from running, it is nevertheless a very sick man, and it would be certain death for him to undertake the labors of another campaign.

Flipping all considerations together, therefore, it looks as if in any event the Democrats will have a prospect of securing the next Legislature, and that the Democrats, so there is no "Modern Republicanism" about the present prospect. The Democrats are sure to win, and it is a case of sure thing as regards appointment or extra session as to the uncertain one of letting the Legislature make a mistake in electing a Democrat to fill the vacancy.

Col. Burns is evidently well satisfied with the way everything is going, for he has not only secured the nomination, but is also in a position to make a strong showing in the election. He is a man who would be willing to bet his money on the result, and he is a man who would be willing to bet his money on the result.

FEDERAL MATTERS.
Apart from the Senatorial group, there is little of political worth to be observed. The opening of Congress next Monday is naturally attracting some attention for the war veterans' claims at Washington it is of course anticipated that a number of matters that have been pending for some time will be taken up. The change in the naval officer's department will, it is thought, be an early development, while the session has not far begun it is expected that the new postmaster for Los Angeles will be announced.

Should the new Senator be from Los Angeles as Senator White was, the point would be well taken, for although appointments in his district on exception is made, the principle of the thing is that the Senator should be from the place where the Senatorial district is located. As there is, however, no likelihood of a Los Angeles man going to the United States Senate, the point is not a very important one.

Referring to the subject of Federal matters, it is not a very important one, but it is a case of sure thing as regards appointment or extra session as to the uncertain one of letting the Legislature make a mistake in electing a Democrat to fill the vacancy.

in their favor, though as a great deal of good work is being done by those interested in the issue they may succeed in convincing the necessary two-thirds vote into line by the time the 24th inst. comes around.

ONE OIL SPECULATION.
Those who have been watching the quotations on the oil exchanges have been compelled to late to express surprise at the prevailing conditions. Despite the fact that the oil companies have been receiving the price of oil to go up and in fact show an increasing tendency to travel in the other direction. One thing is by this time well apparent and that is that there is not going to be any bonanza excitement here such as was anticipated for otherwise some of the stocks that are now being quoted at $2 or $2.50 would be well up in the $50. Even the oil companies are not going to be any more successful in their efforts to control the market.

THE BOND PROPOSITION.
Local political interest is beginning to center upon the bond proposition to be held the end of the present session, especially upon that for the Panhandle extension. For there is a movement on foot to place a bond issue of $1,000,000 for the purpose of extending the Panhandle. The proposition is to place a bond issue of $1,000,000 for the purpose of extending the Panhandle. The proposition is to place a bond issue of $1,000,000 for the purpose of extending the Panhandle.

part sent out here by the Standard Oil Company to ascertain whether or not there was much to be feared in the competition of the new fields has decided in the negative, and has issued a report that would cause many a holder of oil stock to feel blue.

As the story goes, the expert's report is that the configuration of the coast is such that it is not possible that there could be large, permanent, subterranean flows of oil in California. His point is that the location of the oil fields is such that it is not possible that there could be large, permanent, subterranean flows of oil in California.

particular line, and secondly, that it is impossible to secure all the first-class talent that is necessary. Two or three years ago, when vaudeville was comparatively a novelty to popular theater-goers, every one was a vaudeville artist, and the business class artists in every branch of the business, the public naturally declines to be satisfied with second-rate acts, and despite the energetic efforts of the Orpheum management, they cannot keep pace with the demand. The introduction of one or two single-act comedies during the course of the evening is one method by which it is hoped to attract the public.

And now for a theatrical item that will come as a surprise to all but the initiated. Mr. J. C. Bulla, a well-known actor, is to run an opera company in San Francisco, and at the close of the present season, that is to say in March or April of next year, he will direct the production of "The Tivoli" people will be glad to hear that Mr. Bulla is going to run an opera company here.

HAMBURG, October 29, 1899.—Our last notes were jotted down on the 25th, as we ran along the coast of Holland. The approach to the Elbe over the long reach of shallow sea, similar to that of the China Sea off Shanghai. For seventy-five miles before entering the channel of the river the navigator's course is marked out by a succession of lightships. We entered the Elbe about 4 A. M., and by 8 o'clock had dropped anchor at Brunsbüttel, where the river narrows to a stream that flows into the North Sea.

Admiral Dewey Makes A Defense

Admiral Dewey talked freely regarding the transfer of his home with a San Francisco reporter who received at his home tonight. He expressed the keenest regret, indignation, sorrow, and resentment at the manner in which the information that he had died his home to his wife had been received. He said that the American people could so misunderstand and misinterpret his actions, and that his voice grew so husky that his words were scarcely distinguishable, and he was so nervous that he frequently arose and paced the floor.

of writers of letters which have been published today, I feel justified in some what oversteering the bounds of propriety and saying that Mrs. Dewey understood better than I did the feelings of the people in this case. It seems that the house to be transferred to her. She did consent only after an arrangement had been made with the American people, but her entire personal life has been a sacrifice.

afterwards at Princeton, I kept him supplied in money far in advance, and he would frequently say that he had no use for so much money. I told him that I did not want to spend it to get it in the bank. It is unlikely that I would neglect his interests, but I would not neglect his interests.

AMERICAN WOMEN IN LONDON

(Copyrighted, 1899, by Associated Press.) LONDON, Dec. 2.—The utterances of Cabinet Ministers and others on the subject of the suggested Anglo-Saxon-American Alliance have distracted public attention to some degree from the list of casualties that marks British progress in South Africa. But the growing distinctions of the British Empire cannot stem the growing tide of sorrow that manifests itself with the absence, through mourning, of prominent families from social festivities. As Ambassador Choate said of the American Thanksgiving banquet yesterday there is scarcely an English family of this acquaintance without relatives already either killed or wounded in the war. Yet the press has taken kindly to this new topic, though the more conservative papers, such as the Times, point out that a sympathetic attitude toward the United States is an easy matter compared with one with Germany, on account of the difference in race and language. While it is not accurate to say that the public attention has been distracted from the list of casualties that marks British progress in South Africa, it is true that the growing distinctions of the British Empire cannot stem the growing tide of sorrow that manifests itself with the absence, through mourning, of prominent families from social festivities.

Frenchmen and Frenchwomen resident in England, from ladies' maids to authors and abbess, have kept the correspondence columns of the English papers full of references to the American people, and which have marked some of the Paris papers, while the French papers themselves have been full of references to the American people, and which have marked some of the Paris papers.

WEEK IN WALL STREET.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The stock market has been sustained by the aggressive strength of a few individual stocks, notably the great truck lines on belief in a consolidation of control. This factor served to offset to some extent the effect of disappointment over the failure of the money market to work easy. Prices have been comparatively steady, but the underdone general list has been heavy and profit-taking has been on a large
